Keep Cool for the Summer

Prolonged heat and humidity can present a serious health hazard, especially for young children, the elderly, and persons taking certain medications. To avoid health complications from excessive heat, the NJ Department of Health & Senior Services recommends:

- If you do not have air-conditioning, spend time in air-conditioned places such as libraries, movies, malls, or other public buildings during the hottest hours of the day.
- Ensure that older adults and persons with mobility problems have adequate fluids within easy reach.
- Talk to your healthcare provider about any medicines or drugs you take. Certain medications can increase the risk of heat-related illness.
- Don't leave children, elderly, a person with a disability, or pets in an enclosed car -- not even for a minute -- as temperatures can quickly climb to dangerous levels.
- Wear loose and light-colored clothing.
- Wear a hat when outdoors.
- Reduce physical activity or reschedule it for cooler times of the day.
- Drink plenty of water or other non-alcoholic beverages.

Energy Assistance Programs

Looking for assistance with your home energy bills? The State of New Jersey offers programs that can help. Call Senior Services at (856) 384-6900 for more information. Programs currently available include:

- Universal Service Fund (USF) is a program that helps low-income households pay for their electric and natural gas costs. To be eligible for USF, your household must: 1) Be income eligible and 2) spend more than three percent of household income on gas and/ or electricity (or spend more than six percent of household income on electric heating). Applications are accepted at any time of the year.
- The Lifeline Utility Assistance Program is for eligible low-income senior citizens and the disabled. Lifeline benefits help eligible homeowners and renters with electric and natural gas costs.
- Payment Assistance for Gas and Electric (PAGE) grants help gas and electric customers prevent disconnection of service or restoration of service.
- NJ SHARES is a non-profit organization that offers energy assistance to income-eligible households in New Jersey. The program helps moderate and fixed-income families and individuals facing a temporary financial crisis. Eligibility is determined by household size and income. Qualifying households can receive grants of up to $700 per utility per calendar year based on household size and income, with grants of up to $700 per utility per calendar year available for those who qualify.

Don't Be a Victim of Fraud: Know About Consumer Protection

Financial fraud and scams target senior citizens more frequently than any other age group. Today's seniors are the prime targets of fraudsters for several reasons, starting with their financial assets.

Members of this generation are most likely to have a substantial "nest egg," own their homes, or have excellent credit. Moreover, seniors are less likely to report fraud, either because they don't know whom to report it to, are too ashamed of having been scammed, or don't know they have been victimized.

One of the biggest reasons seniors fall prey to fraudsters is that they are simply less likely to be aware of the latest scams spreading across the nation and around the state. Keep yourself Informed by visiting FightingFraud.NJ.gov or call the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs at 1-800-242-5846 for more information.
